ADJOURNMENT

We're excited to hear your thoughts and ideas and plan for Rossville's future!

The Board of Trustees and Mayor are very excited to invite the citizens and people of all ages and backgrounds interested in the future of Rossville to join us for a presentation and Q&A session where we'll explore how to map out Rossville's future!! Business owners, whether citizens or not, are highly encouraged to attend.

If you're having trouble getting there, please reach out to the village office, and we'll try to arrange transportation. If you have questions about this before the meeting, please feel free to reach out to Mayor Black at 1.217.495.1323, either by calling or texting.

Speaker: Gisele Hamm, Program Director at the Illinois Institute for Rural Affairs at Western Illinois University

Program: "MAPPING the Future" - This is a community-driven process where we'll gather input from Rossville residents to identify their needs and wants, helping us set long-term development goals and action plans. Your feedback and participation are key!

For details, visit: [Mapping the Future of Your Community presentation and Q&A]

What Happens After Tuesday?! If the community wants to move forward we'll hold five, three-hour visioning sessions, inviting at least 30-60 volunteers from all walks of life to chat about where we are now, where we'd like to be, how we can get there, and what steps we need to take to make it happen.

Together, we'll pinpoint 3-6 key goals, put together an action plan, create action teams, and share our vision and goals with the community in a town meeting.

We hope to see you there!!
